THE FIGHT GOES ON.

Adair Wilson on the Removal of the Southern Utes.

THE ADVANTAGES TO BE GAINED.

THE ADVANTAGES TO BE GAINED.

A Few Cattlemen Only Represent the Sum of the Opposition—The Indians and Mormens Favor the Change.

In response to a communication from Moab to a Denver paper, and which was recently reproduced in The Hustan, Adair Wilson writes as follows: The ratification of the treaty recently made with the Southern Ute Indians, looking to their removal from the present reservation, is a matter of vital importance and concern to the whole people of Colorado, and especially to the Indians, looking to their removal removed. Every settler in that section in New Mexico. These people have been working realously for five years with the indians of the treaty recently records comety of San Juan, in New Mexico. These people have been working realously for five years with the indiced and earnest support of the Colorado delegation in Congress to secure the removal of these Indians, and now, as they are on the eve of success, it would be a chaining to the state should Congress refinse to confirm the treaty. This is my excited from the Mexico. A FIXED POLICE.

But both of these things are in accord with the settled policy of the government, and acther M. M. R. nor I can change it don't think it would be good or wise policy near part to assist in defeating a measure o promising of good results to curseives a this Southern Ute treat; simply to show our disapproval of the general Indian clicy of the country. The wheels of government would not be stopped thereby. I ought whether the machinery would be policy of the county.

crament would not be stopped thereby.

counts whether the machinery would be jarred even. In fact I am of the opinion that the machinery would run as smoothly and regularly as before our indignant assault. The only result would be that after the smoke and dust of battle had cleared away, we would have a realizing sense of the fact that we had made supreme asses of ourselves.

All Prespect.

In the early spring the people of Ashley began to feel gloomy over the water prostest this season, but of late the creeks have risen until there is plenty for all the land under cultivation. The crops are looking well and promise a large harvest this year.

the smoke and dust of battle had cleared away, we would have a realizing sensor of the fact that we had made supreme asses of ourselves.

M. M. H. A speaks of the Utes as "learning to farm after a fashion," and says that 'the distance of themselves, etc." It is well that 'the service of themselves, etc." It is well that 'the service of themselves, etc." It is well that 'the service of themselves, etc." It is well that 'the service of themselves, etc." It is well that 'the service of themselves, etc." It is well that 'the service of themselves, etc." It is well that 'the service of themselves, etc. It is well that 'the service of themselves, etc." It is well that 'the service of themselves, etc. It is well that 'the service of themselves, etc." It is well that the had done or will do had been four habour, and the service of the service

ast. Your correspondent evidently writes from the dictates of homest conviction, but he has been misinformed as to some material particulars, and the skill and ability with which he advocates the cause might recall a manageria missapprotenession in the terms of manageria missapprotenession in the fact the large are seen in the converted of the improvision which he have seen of the hard within the proposed reservation is a purious their settled within industrious farmers, where the climate is berfect, and where melons, fruits and yee, etables grow to an ensurmous size, and in humanian proportions. This impression would arise from the fact that the place from whence the letter was written is not given in your paper. The render would herefore, naturally suppose that it was written from, and of, the proposed reservation. As a matter of fact the letter describes a few small settlements which are not included within the reservation, and was evidently writton from one of those places. One would search a long time within the harron and parched limits of this reservation before those income in the proposed reservation before the distinct of the proposed reservation before willing one wagen found of "purple grapes" or "golden information as to the remainder, this on the whole reservation of the water man cluster in the proposed reservation of the water man cluster in the proposed reservation of the water man cluster in the proposed reservation of the water man cluster in the proposed reservation of the water man cluster in the proposed reservation of the proposed reservation of the water man cluster in the proposed reservation of the pr mocessary. It is valuable for grazing purposes.

The golly settlers affected are a few Mormon families about Bluff City and Monticelle, no, provably, exceeding forty in all They are all squatters, baring no vested rights in the land. The treaty proposes a liberal compensation to them for their in processed by exceeding forty in all They are and squatters, baring no vested rights in the land. The treaty proposes a liberal compensation to them for their in processed by the proposes a liberal compensation to them for their in processed location to the rich and well-watered lands of the present reservation is colorade. At least I am so informed by their bishop, who most readously assisted in the making of the treaty, and who is one of the firmest advocates of its ratification. The only persons affected are a few cathemore-citizens of Colorado whose cattle roun over this vast inscripted area. They oppose the treaty, and I don't blame them. I was pasturage upon the public duming is a most destrable privilege. In the same sately. But the sattlement and improvement of the country ranset be stopped and the wants and necessities of the many be ignored in order to allow the exercise of tree, fat and fully privileges to a few.

Neither Mondo normany of its fine orchards or valuable improvements are included in the proposed revervation. The lines of the receivation are well defined, and the landaus know them.
